The opposite of poverty is not wealth; the opposite of poverty is sharing.

Leading a session at the Damnoni community in India

A SECURITY MISSION!

The container and transport programmes are an example of vaccines and do not substitute for Emmaus education. By international solidarity which strengthens and enhances the small projects that help today’s Appalachians. We believe in this model of sharing resources by institutionalizing it.

The container and transport programmes (also known as backpack programmes) are a tool to bring new life to existing projects.

So far, I have been involved in the Emmaus Community with the container and transport programmes. It’s not that they are not a part of the local community, but they are part of the local community, and can foresee the need to support them.

don’t think they can’t go further. The programmes have promoted their work long ago but the board of Emmaus International decided to organize an international event in December 2019 to evaluate them and to discuss possible ways forward.

These programmes proved their worth long ago but the board of Emmaus International decided to organize an international event in December 2019 to evaluate them and to discuss possible ways forward. The event was a resounding success, bringing together people from all regions and helped come up with some interesting ideas for the programmes in the future.

Next part of all... Emmaus Piura, Peru

In 1984, Abbé Pierre, the founder of the Emmaus movement, traveled to Paris, France, to address the Palais des Congrès. His speech, titled "The Opposite of Poverty", was delivered on 23 November 1984. He called for a world where poverty is not wealth, but sharing. His words still resonate today, reminding us of the importance of compassion and solidarity in the face of social injustice. We must continue to fight for a world where the opposite of poverty is sharing.
