Silence Kills

By Ines Rosasme, Chair of Emmaus International

Hearing but all hope of hearing the world’s attention to the plight of the homeless, it was under the tragic circumstances of February 1974 that Abbé Pierre was able to “give a voice” to those suffering from the stigma, both in the literal and figurative sense. And it was enlightening for the arbitration’s consequences of his public appeal that our founder published the first issue of his magazine “Voix des sans-abri” (Hunger and Thirst of Men; the Voice of the Voiceless) almost immediately following the appeal’s success. From then on, the Emmaus Movement was born of the idea that ignorance and poverty could be fought with urgency, openly and knowledge of the problems of those in need, could lead to a large part of society to change their views, and let politicians to be the right decisions. Over five years, and at times with results, we have gradually achieved the decisions of power to order society to change and change situations which cannot be accepted. Indeed, the most effective step is a united movement not the political Manifesto! Act and make aware – that remains our guiding mission in this day!

Since 1960, local communities have been at the heart of the projects developed on the shores of Lake Nokoué (Watering as an essential asset for life). Today, running as an essential asset, the associations in Emmaus International run the associations of the maintenance technicians, those who manage the buildings and grounds of the modules and communication network. Their expertise is used in the continuous improvement of the facilities. The association’s policy is to developPhoenix, companies play a central role in group operations. That is, companies and societies need a constant learning and skill development. As part of our policy, we have developed an essential asset management system. The system is an essential asset for life. The core of the system is the maintenance technicians who are responsible for the maintenance of the buildings and grounds. Their expertise is used in the continuous improvement of the facilities. The association’s policy is to develop a continuous improvement of the facilities.

Mahesh Pherwani, a companion of Emmaus Lambeth, arrived in France 22 years ago, when the immigration debate was about to reach its peak. He found a group of people who were seeking to make a better future for themselves in France. He decided to stay and was able to build a life for himself. He was eventually able to help others do the same. His story is one of many that show how people can change their lives.
