Emmaus is a manifesto. A manifestation of actions. Action on the ground. Fire, disaster, selfless acts.

The Emmaus Movement from around the world.

A source of inspiration
Although it is known as the Universal Manifesto, it is not a recipe for a particular community, but a voyage, a means of discovering the creativity of each person, and of each community.

A source of inspiration
Although it is known as the Universal Manifesto, it is not a recipe for a particular community, but a voyage, a means of discovering the creativity of each person, and of each community.

A WEAPON FOR THE YOUNG
For Paul Daroueche, the positive war to which Abbé Pierre used to refer – a war on poverty – is far from being a long-drawn-out task. It is inspiring, though!

A WEAPON FOR THE YOUNG
For Paul Daroueche, the positive war to which Abbé Pierre used to refer – a war on poverty – is far from being a long-drawn-out task. It is inspiring, though!

NEXT PORT OF CALL… BERN, SWITZERLAND

Embrace yourself once again in the Universal Manifesto, available in 21 languages on the page www.flickr.com/photos/emmaus_international/.

Round table discussion: ‘The relevance of the Universal Manifesto in the current realities and the common challenges faced by all, such situations of injustice and to name those who are precious, and the Emmaus network needs to involve them in order to progress and to ensure that Abbé Pierre used to refer – a war on poverty – is far from being a long-drawn-out task. It is inspiring, though!

After the morning’s round table discussions, the afternoon was a great success. The Federal Parliament was the venue, and the Open Days were a fantastic opportunity to stage an encounter and make the Emmaus project known.

At the beginning of the Open Day, the Chair of the Emmaus Federation of Switzerland, François Mollard, gave a fantastic performance, so that the power of the Manifesto resonated throughout the event (on our website): manifesto.emmaus-international.org.

Three days and nights later, the Emmaus Movement from around the world will gather in Bern, to welcome representatives of the Emmaus Movement from around the world.

The Emmaus Movement from around the world.

Embrace yourself once again in the Universal Manifesto, available in 21 languages on the page www.flickr.com/photos/emmaus_international/.

Round table discussion: ‘The relevance of the Universal Manifesto in the current realities and the common challenges faced by all, such situations of injustice and to name those who are precious, and the Emmaus network needs to involve them in order to progress and to ensure that Abbé Pierre used to refer – a war on poverty – is far from being a long-drawn-out task. It is inspiring, though!

After the morning’s round table discussions, the afternoon was a great success. The Federal Parliament was the venue, and the Open Days were a fantastic opportunity to stage an encounter and make the Emmaus project known.

At the beginning of the Open Day, the Chair of the Emmaus Federation of Switzerland, François Mollard, gave a fantastic performance, so that the power of the Manifesto resonated throughout the event (on our website): manifesto.emmaus-international.org.

Three days and nights later, the Emmaus Movement from around the world will gather in Bern, to welcome representatives of the Emmaus Movement from around the world.

The Emmaus Movement from around the world.

Embrace yourself once again in the Universal Manifesto, available in 21 languages on the page www.flickr.com/photos/emmaus_international/.

Round table discussion: ‘The relevance of the Universal Manifesto in the current realities and the common challenges faced by all, such situations of injustice and to name those who are precious, and the Emmaus network needs to involve them in order to progress and to ensure that Abbé Pierre used to refer – a war on poverty – is far from being a long-drawn-out task. It is inspiring, though!

After the morning’s round table discussions, the afternoon was a great success. The Federal Parliament was the venue, and the Open Days were a fantastic opportunity to stage an encounter and make the Emmaus project known.

At the beginning of the Open Day, the Chair of the Emmaus Federation of Switzerland, François Mollard, gave a fantastic performance, so that the power of the Manifesto resonated throughout the event (on our website): manifesto.emmaus-international.org.